What is "Touch a Truck?" This is an event taking place from 2-5 p.m. on Saturday, November 2 at the Community Center grounds in Butler. It is an educational experience for all ages, but is geared towards trying to help kids from kindergarten through 12th grade, adults taking classes for their GED, and maybe young adults having a hard time finding a profession that does not require a college degree. The hope is to expose them to alternative Pendleton County's new courthouse won Tuesday by a majority vote of 1,410 to 1,005 but failed to get the required two-thirds majority. Proponents of the new courthouse are already talking of bringing the issue right back in 1964. However, the chance for the $200,000 federal aid is believed lost and thus if the courthouse and jail are built in the future it will cost the taxpayers double in taxes.

The Pendleton County Board of Education met for their regular monthly meeting and decided to begin immediately on the rebuilding of the Portland School. Details are now being worked out with the State Department of Education at Frankfort.

Stanley E. (Chub) Moreland was born near Neave, Ky., January 1, 1909, a son of the late Albert and Clara Hull Moreland. He passed away October 6, of a coronary attack while at work. He was 54 years of age.

Woodhead & Sons Funeral Home of Falmouth, purchased a late model Pontiac Catalina, 4 door automobile recently. This makes three model Pontiacs that they have at the funeral home for use as service cars, funeral services, transportation to doctor's offices and hospitals, and the many other services rendered by the funeral home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Redman, who reside on the Joe Zempter farm south of town, have been awarded a trip to Miami, Florida. They won a contest on their activity in the Youth Organization, and also on writing an essay.

Eugene Flaughter of Pendleton County was elected vice-president of the Pendleton County Board of Education.

World Stroke Day is Tuesday, October 29

One in six people worldwide will have a stroke in their lifetime

Crystal Wall was having a typical chat on the phone with her sister Chassity Anderson - until her sister's phone abruptly crashed to the floor and her words suddenly became slurred.

Anderson, 37, was having another stroke.

"Because my sister had suffered from stroke before, I recognized the warning signs and knew to call 9-1-1," Wall said. "I know stroke is something that can happen to anyone at any time and if it does, you have to act quickly. The longer you wait, the worse it can be."

Paramedics quickly arrived and transferred Anderson to the hospital, where she later recovered.

One in six people worldwide will have a stroke in their lifetime. In the United States, someone has a stroke every 40 seconds.

In recognition of World Stroke Day on Oct. 29, the American Heart Association/American Stroke Association urges those who care for others to learn the stroke warning signs, since bystanders often need to act fast in an emergency.

A new survey commissioned by the American Heart Association/American Stroke Association found that many people who care for family or friends at high risk for stroke don't know the potentially life-saving warning signs.

Only 41 percent of people who care for individuals with health concerns other than stroke know three or more stroke warning signs as compared to 58 percent of those who care for stroke survivors.

Knowledge of three or more stroke warning signs was slightly better (46 percent) among people who care for individuals with high blood pressure, a major risk factor for stroke.

Virtually all surveyed said they would call 9-1-1 if they thought someone was having a stroke, but a recent study showed more than a third of stroke patients don't get to the hospital by ambulance.

"The patient doesn't always recognize their own stroke and when they do, sometimes their symptoms make calling for help difficult, if not impossible," said

Demetrius Lopes, M.D., surgical director of RUSH University Stroke Center in Chicago and American Heart Association/American Stroke Association spokesperson. "Just like we need to learn CPR to save someone else's life, we need to learn how to spot a stroke and act fast for the best chance of a positive outcome."

The American Stroke Association's Together to End Stroke initiative, nationally sponsored by Covidien, a global healthcare product company, teaches the acronym F.A.S.T. to remember stroke warning signs:

- F - Face Drooping: Does one side of the face droop or is it numb? Ask the person to smile.
- A - Arm Weakness: Is one arm weak or numb? Ask the person to raise both arms. Does one arm drift downward?
- S - Speech Difficulty: Is speech slurred, are they unable to speak, or are they hard to understand? Ask the person to repeat a simple sentence like, "The sky is blue." Is the sentence repeated correctly?
- T - Time to call 9-1-1: If the person shows any of these symptoms, even if the symptoms go away, call 9-1-1 and get them to the hospital immediately.

"Those with loved ones who have stroke risk factors should make it a priority to learn F.A.S.T. and teach others," said Lopes.

"Recognizing a stroke and calling 9-1-1 gives the patient a greater chance of getting to an appropriate hospital quickly and being assessed for life-saving treatment like a clot-busting drug or medical device."

The association offers a free mobile app to help people spot a stroke and identify award-winning hospitals nearby.

This year, 795,000 people in the United States will have a first or recurrent stroke. Other than a prior stroke, major stroke risk factors include:

- High blood pressure - It's the most important controllable risk factor for stroke. About 77 percent of people who have a first stroke have blood pressure higher than 140/90 mm Hg. An estimated 78 million Americans have hypertension.
- Transient ischemic attack - About 15 percent of strokes are preceded by a TIA (or "mini stroke").
- Atrial fibrillation (Afib) - It increases stroke risk up to five times and affects more than 2.7 million Americans.
- Smoking - Current smokers have two to four times the stroke risk of nonsmokers or those who quit more than 10 years ago. In 2011, 21.3 percent of men and 16.7 percent of women 18 or older were cigarette smokers.

For more information about the stroke warning signs and mobile app, risk factors or Together to End Stroke, visit www.StrokeAssociation.org.

PLEASE NOTE: There is no set route or schedule as to the pick-up. The Maintenance crew will start on one end of town and work their way across. If you are missed during that route, you will be picked up the next week's cycle. NO SPECIAL CALL-BACKS FOR PICK-UP. This schedule will be maintained to maximize the use of the vacuum. This schedule will be maintained through the month of November; longer if necessary.
Make sure all leaves are raked to the street/curb; in a neat pile (not scattered) and that all vehicles are clear of leaf piles. The leaves will be left if vehicles are in the way.
DO NOT PUT GRASS, BRUSH, OR OTHER DEBRIS WITH LEAF PILE.

SCHOOL

UK College of Dentistry visits Southern

South Family Resource/Youth Service Center (SFRYSC) and Southern Elementary had the opportunity to have the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry visit on October 21-22 and be a part of their "Seal Kentucky" Program. Within the two days, Southern Elementary had over 130 students participate with a total of 188 sealants done on participating students who enrolled in the program. All students received fluoride treatment with an evaluation which was sent home to parents explaining what procedures were completed and what dental needs the child may need in the future. This was a great opportunity for the school and they would like to thank the UK College of Dentistry for giving this opportunity to all Southern Elementary students!

"Parent Night" to be held at Sharp ~ Nov. 5

Session Two: "Guiding Your Child Through Life Skills"

All parents...mark your calendars for Tuesday, Nov. 5, 6:30-8 p.m. to attend "Guiding Your Child Through Life Skills", the second of four "Parent Nights" being presented at Phillip Sharp Middle School this year. The program will be held in the library and is geared toward the "Student Success Skills" program and concepts being presented weekly to all Sharp Middle School students. You do not have to have a middle school student to benefit from this program as the skills you learn will help parents with children of all ages. The program is designed for parents helping students develop the academic, social and self-management skills they need to succeed at all ages. Each session is a "stand alone" event. You can gain the most by attending all four, but you can gain a lot from attending one or two of the sessions. The third and fourth sessions will be advertised and presented at later dates. There will be a short presentation, parent success skills activities and discussions, free refreshments and snacks plus a chance to win free door prizes. Drawings are held the night of the event and you must be present to win. This is considered a "qualifying event" for the North FRYSC Christmas Program, parents of Sharp Middle School and Northern Elementary School students. To register, please call the North FRYSC at 859-472-5518. Childcare is available but you must sign up for it when registering by giving your child/children's name and age in order to assist in the planning of activities and snacks.

OUTSTANDING A KENTUCKY ADVENTURE IN HIS FIELD

Chapter 8

"Don't even think about it, son," Pa commanded when he saw me getting ready to kill the slithering black snake I had found in the barn. "Leave him alone."

"You mean we aren't going to kill him?" I asked, proud I had gathered enough courage to even get close to the creature.

"Wouldn't dream of it," Pa said. "Snakes are good for farms. This little guy is a rat snake. He lives here in the barn and eats mice and rats. The snake gets his dinner, and we don't have rodents."

"Can I pick him up?" I asked.

"I didn't say that," Pa said, chuckling. "This snake might bite you, but it isn't a venomous snake. Sometimes it's hard to distinguish between venomous and non-venomous snakes. That's why it's best to leave them alone and let an adult know a snake is around."

"Should we tell Mr. Parker?" I asked.

"He knows. This snake has been here for years, which is why you don't see rats or mice."

"How about I take the eggs you've already gathered and give them to Mrs. Parker," Pa suggested. "You keep gathering the eggs and we'll take what's left to Granny. Mrs. Parker always insists we take some home."

"We're going to eat these?" I asked.

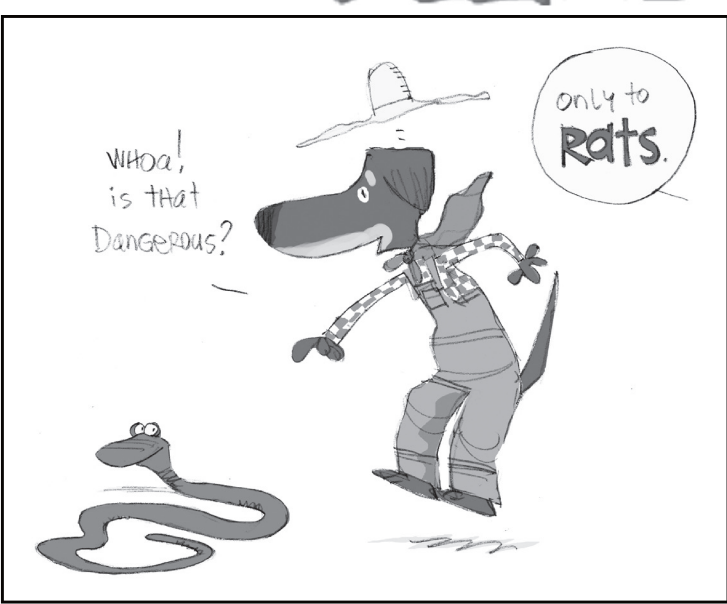

"Of course, but after we clean them," Pa said.

"I've never eaten eggs that didn't come from the grocery store."

"Where do you think the store gets the eggs?" Pa asked.

When we returned home, it was lunchtime. I couldn't imagine being hungry after the huge breakfast I had eaten, but I was. It was a good thing because Granny had cooked a feast, and it smelled scrumptious! The beautiful oak table was graced with pork chops, corn on the cob, green beans, stewed tomatoes, biscuits and strawberry preserves. And of course there was a pitcher of cold milk straight from Patty and Bonnie.

"We've never seen such a large delicious lunch," Chloe commented before asking Granny if we could help with anything.

"Farmers are accustomed to eating a large noon-day meal," Granny explained. "They get up early, milk and do the morning chores, eat breakfast, and then work hard all morning long, burning off all those breakfast calories. By lunch they're starved and will need the energy to make it through the rest of the day. And just so you know, everything on the table was made or grown right here in Kentucky."

"You bought it all at a Kentucky grocery store?" I asked, trying to understand.

"No, sweetie. All the vegetables - and the strawberries - were grown in our garden. The milk and the butter came from Bonnie and Patty, and the pork chops came from a friend who owns a pig farm," Granny said. "You could say Pa and I are Kentucky Proud."

"We're proud of Kentucky too!" I said, happy I lived in the commonwealth.

"I know you are, doggies," Pa said, "but Kentucky Proud is a program that encourages folks to purchase products that come from our state. The average meal travels 1,500 miles from somewhere far away to a table. During the travel process, the food loses its nutritional value and its taste, but if we buy Kentucky products the food doesn't have to travel, which means it's fresher, and we're supporting our local farmers and keeping the money here in our state."

"I wish we could eat Kentucky Proud products," Chloe said, "but we don't have any pigs or chickens or cows!"

"You can still eat Kentucky Proud," Granny told us. "When your mom is at the grocery store, have her look for the Kentucky Proud symbol on the food. That will let her know it was made or grown right here in Kentucky. And if you ever go out for dinner or supper, make sure you go to a Kentucky Proud restaurant. You can find a list on their website, Ky Proud.com."

I couldn't wait to give Mom that information. She was a terrific cook, but using Kentucky products would make her vittles even yummier.

After we finished lunch - or dinner as Granny called it - we ate fresh peach pie with a scoop of vanilla ice cream. No doubt about it, I loved life as a farmer.

"You doggies take a few minutes to enjoy yourselves while I check the weather forecast to see what tomorrow will bring. Then we will get back to work," Pa said.

Chloe and I helped Granny with the dishes and then took a walk outside. We smelled a very interesting smell that we couldn't quite identify. All of a sudden, we saw smoke coming from a barn. We ran back in the house as fast as we could and called the fire department. We hoped we weren't too late!

PCHS to present "The Canterville Ghost"

The Pendleton County High School Drama Department will be presenting the Oscar Wilde production of "The Canterville Ghost." This touching and funny adaptation is the story of the 500-year-old ghost of Canterville Manor who is suddenly faced with an English ghost's worst nightmare....Americans! The Otis family moves in, and Sir Simon the ghost wants them out. When 16-year-old Virginia, who wants to be anywhere but England, and Sir Simon meet, they have an instant dislike for one another. Soon though, they find they have a very special link. Include two rambunctious twins, a stuffy English butler, and a handsome young English duke, and this becomes a wonderful adaptation of a classic! Come join us for this family-friendly show and get into the spirit of this time of year at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 31 - November 2 in the Pendleton County High School Auditorium. Admission for students is $3, adults $5, and 5 and under get in free. Pictured above from left: Maya Lustenberg as Lady Elenor Canterville - Sir Simon's wife, Ben Sanning as the Ghost - Sir Simon Canterville, and Cheyanne Johnson as Virginia Otis - The American Teenager.

November proclaimed "College Application Month"

KHEAA staff will provide assistance to help seniors complete online applications

Governor Steve Beshear has proclaimed November "College Application Month" for Kentucky high school seniors.

"All Kentucky students should consider getting an education beyond high school," Gov. Beshear said. "Whether it's a four-year degree or a six-month certificate program from a career and technical school, the more education you have, the better your chances of finding a well-paying job."

He added that the more educated the work force is, the easier it is for Kentucky to attract businesses and industries to the state.

College Application Month is sponsored by the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). KHEAA is the state agency that administers grants, the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES), work-study and savings programs.

KHEAA outreach staff and school and community volunteers will provide hands-on assistance to help seniors complete online applications. An Online Toolkit is available at www.kheaa.com for any school or organization interested in hosting an event.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

"Better or Worse?"

Sometime I start thinking about changes that have taken place over the past 60 years. I come up with the question, is society better or worse now or then? I suppose there is no real clear cut solution or answer, and certainly if there were, it would be debatable.

I can only make one personal observation. The folks who have lived in my generation in the good old USA are better off than 99.44% of the people living in the world today, or the people who have ever lived.

People have had struggles and problems, but most of us do not know what it would be like to go to bed hungry or fear that an enemy soldier might come into our home and kill us or our family before we wake in the morning. If we put forth an effort, educational and professional opportunities have always been available. I do hope and pray that my grandchildren will have these same opportunities, but sometimes I fear they will not.

Our society today has become much more confused and complicated than mine of years ago. Complication exists concerning, human rights, freedoms, sex, benefits, religion, marriage and definitions of God.

As a first grader at Goforth Elementary in 1951, we did not know what free lunches were. A school lunch cost 20 cents. Some kids did not have money for lunch and they would bring something from home. A few kids would work in the cafeteria in exchange for their lunch. There was no law stating a child could not work for his lunch. Work ethics were instilled in us.

Our society is slowly falling into a category of being receivers not givers. I read an editorial recently that described current thought: "When half of the people get the idea that they do not have to work because the other half is going to take care of them, and when the other half get the idea that it does no good to work because somebody else is going to get what they work for, that my dear friend, is about the end of any nation."

Now please don't think that I am saying that our government is all bad, or we should not help the needy. I am making reference that our lawmakers encourage folks to be dependent on the government for their every need. Thus they cause these citizens to become weaker and retard integrity and independence.

No standardized or IQ tests were given at Goforth. We were aware of our friends and neighbors and knew many of their circumstances. We just didn't see them when they needed help. We saw them all the time. We knew who was poor, who needed help, and if an emergency arose, we were ready to respond.

We were also aware of each person in our class and most of the entire school population. We could call each other by name. If our teacher had directed us to line up according to intelligence, we could line up with the smartest first and the dumbest last without mistake or disagreement. If she were to say line up from the prettiest to the ugliest, we could readily conform. Whether it was the best athlete, the fastest runner, the friendliest, the meanest, or the best speller, we knew each other.

I was usually in the middle of the line. The most valuable lesson I learned, which made a permanent part of my personality was: "I knew how dumb I was!" This realization has been one of the most valuable assets that helped me through life. Much of our young society has not comprehended this important bit of information about self.

We also learned a natural ability to stereotype and profile strangers. We knew if people were cursing, drinking, and fighting, to stay away. We did not go around people or places when we were not comfortable. We did not associate with people who did not work or take care of their family. We knew home was a place for refuge and safety.

We did not have the government to tell us not to drink sugar laden pop, because there was no pop to drink, and even if there had been, we had no money to purchase any.

I can recall vividly of an event that has been with me for some 60 years. There were a few of us students who had to wait for a late bus to pick us up at the close of the school day. An ice cream truck had broken down right in front of the school. We all went out to observe. I suppose the driver saw the hunger in our eyes, and he concluded that the ice cream on the truck would melt by the time help arrived, so he went to the back of the truck and gave each of us three or four ice creams. This gesture was just like heaven and every time I see an ice cream truck I remember this kindness of the driver.

We did not have a library at Goforth, but the nearest room that resembled the beginning of a library was a little corner of our cloakroom. The few books there consisted of a Bible, Webster's Dictionary, a book by Jesse Stuart and Mark Twain, a Sears-Roebuck catalogue, and a well worn National Geographic magazine. I could never understand why, but even the dumbest old boys in class were always reading the National Geographic. I finally decided that I must find what interested the boys. I retrieved the magazine and observed that about middle ways, there included an article about a tribe in deepest Africa. It contained crude photographs of some topless mothers who were nursing their children. Since then I have always been fond of libraries and discovered the fascination and excitement in books.

So Long for a While

I am reminded of what a friend said to me a few months past. "There are persons who hate you for what you write!" I sloughed it off, but his contention has come home to roost with me because of some letters written to the editor of The Falmouth Outlook. I have been called a bigot and a purveyor of hatred, both of which are not what I perceive myself to be.

Both of these letters were incensed by what I had written concerning gays and same sex marriage. Am I surprised? No. Am I intimidated by their intellectual power? Not at all. Do I want and expect everyone to agree with what I write? Heaven forbid! Do I like a vigorous debate? Indeed, because no one has a monopoly on the truth.

However, I would be flippant and cavalier to say that being called a bigot and a hatemonger doesn't bother me, and that leads to the purpose for writing this column. I am facing major back surgery with a recuperation time of three months, and I think that I need all of my energies to concentrate on this potentially life-changing procedure. Therefore, I will not be writing this column for several weeks.

Thanks! Thanks! Thanks to all of the readers who have encouraged me and Janice as we have attempted to articulate the views of many oldies in a time when change is so rampant and the moral and religious order with which we were nurtured has suffered from those who would tear up its roots and throw both of these on the burn pile.

But we oldies do not give up easily. We will not give up ignobly! (From a sermon at Lees College in 1955 by Reverend Lingle from Whitesburg) To quote General MacArthur when he was driven from the Philippines by the Japanese in World War II, "I shall return!"

I regret that I have offended some! However, I do not apologize for the truth as I see it!

PS - To say that Owen is a bigot and a hatemonger is a bit disturbing to me. There is nothing further from the truth! He may dislike some behavior, but that does not mean that he hates the individual. If there is anyone with no hate, it is he. I should know after being married to him for over 52 years. ~ Janice Collins

NEWS FLASH

Food benefits set to decrease November 1 with expiration of stimulus funding

The Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services (CHFS) is notifying recipients of funding from the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) - formerly known as food stamps - that they will see their benefits decrease beginning Nov. 1.

The change is because increased benefits provided to SNAP by the federal American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) in 2009 are set to expire. Congress has not voted to extend this stimulus funding.

CHFS' Department for Community Based Services (DCBS) administers the Kentucky food benefits program, which is funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS), in every county.

DCBS Commissioner Teresa James said the temporary stimulus funding helped thousands of Kentuckians through a worthy program.

In 2009, stimulus funding boosted every participating household's benefits by 13.6 percent - a two-person household would have received $44 more each month.

"The additional funding made a significant impact on our customers' access to nutritious foods," James said. "Though we are disappointed this extra funding is lapsing, we will still provide benefits to eligible customers and connect them with other community resources that can help feed their family healthful meals on a lower budget."

The long-term change in benefits, after the stimulus funding expires, will depend on household size, income and expenses. A household of two who currently receives $367 a month will likely see a decrease in benefits by $20 a month to $347 per month.

James said customers are being notified of the change through the media and through letters and electronic alerts.

James said customers can access their specific benefits changes and receive alerts by logging on to the state's SNAP customer service website: <https://snapfoodbenefits.chfs.ky.gov>.

Customers cannot appeal the change in benefits because the decrease is a result of a change in federal law.

Some households may see a change in their SNAP benefits this October. To reflect changes in the federal cost of living adjustment, benefits may increase or even decrease slightly then.

Learn more about SNAP online at <http://chfs.ky.gov/dcb/dcf/foodstampsebt.htm>.

Safety tips to keep your Halloween fun and safe

Halloween is an especially enjoyable time of year for children as they attend Halloween parties and go trick-or-treating in their costumes. Some candy treats and snack foods can, however, quickly spoil the fun.

The Kentucky Department for Public Health offers the following food safety tips to help you have a safe Halloween:

- Take these steps to ensure a fun and safe Halloween:
- Avoid having children snack

while they're out trick-or-treating so that you may have a chance to inspect the contents of their treat bag. Give children a light meal or snack before they go out trick-or-treating to help prevent them from snacking.

- Inspect commercially wrapped treats for signs of tampering, such as unusual appearance, discoloration, tiny pinholes or tears in wrappers. Throw away anything that looks suspicious.

- Discard fruit and homemade treats unless you personally know their source and make sure that all fresh fruit is washed prior to eating. When in doubt, throw it out. Parents of very young children should also remove any choking hazards such as gum, peanuts, hard candies or small toys.

Follow these simple tips for Halloween parties at home:

- If juice or cider is served to children at parties, make sure the juice is pasteurized or otherwise treated to destroy harmful bacteria. Juice or cider that has not been treated will state this on the label.
- Don't taste raw cookie dough or cake batter.
- Before going bobbing for apples, reduce the number of bacteria that might be present on apples and other raw fruits and vegetables by thoroughly rinsing them under cool running water. As an added precaution, use a produce brush to remove surface dirt.
- Keep all perishable foods chilled until serving time, including cut melons, finger sandwiches, cheese platters, tossed salads, cold pasta dishes with meat, poultry or seafood and cream pies or cakes with whipped cream and cream cheese frostings. Don't leave these foods out at room temperature for more than two hours.
- Remind children to wash their hands before eating to prevent food borne illness.
- Remember some children have food allergies, so make sure that treats with peanuts or other nuts are clearly identified.

Source: The Cabinet for Health and Family Services Food Safety Branch wishes all Kentuckians a happy and healthy Halloween. If you have any questions or concerns about food safety, please contact the Kentucky Food Safety Branch at (502) 564-7181.

Harrison Memorial Hospital phone scam

It has come to the attention of Harrison Memorial Hospital staff that individuals in the community are receiving phone calls from an 866-218-7985 number with an automated call, identifying itself as "Harrison Memorial Hospital."

Full of nutrients and energy, California Raisins provide a delicious burst of flavor to these cookies. All-natural and dried-by-the-sun, California Raisins deliver fiber, potassium and antioxidants, and just a quarter cup of raisins provides a serving of fruit.

Makes 36 cookies.

INGREDIENTS:

- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 1 large egg
- 1/2 cup California raisins, chopped finely
- 1/4 cup sliced natural almonds, for the ears
- 4 30-inch black licorice laces, cut into 4-inch lengths, for the tails
- 3 ounces semisweet chocolate

The hospital staff want to make it clear that these calls are not from HMH. They are not changing billing companies and believe this to be a scam!

For your protection, do not give them any information and disconnect immediately! Never divulge your personal information.

If you have any questions, please free to contact Harrison Memorial Hospital Administration Department.

Sweet eats, adorable treats: fun for fall

mini chips, for the eyes

DIRECTIONS:

In a small bowl, whisk together the flour and salt, set aside. In another bowl, beat butter with an electric mixer on medium-high speed until creamy, about two minutes. Gradually, add sugar, beating until mixture is pale and fluffy, about three minutes. Beat in vanilla extract, then the egg.

Reducing the speed, gradually add one-third of the flour, until mixed, add another third and another third until blended. Knead in the finely chopped California Raisins. Half the dough, flatten into two disks, wrap in plastic wrap, chill for two hours.

Pre-heat oven to 350°. Roll about one tablespoon, shaping the dough in an oval. Gently pinch bridge of the nose to form eye sockets. Place two sliced almonds at top of each piece of dough, and place two mini chocolates for the eyes below the nose, pressing them gently into the dough. Place the mice on parchment-lined baking sheets, spacing

Bake until the cookies are light golden brown, about 15-20 minutes. Insert a wooden skewer about 1/2-inch into mouse's round end. Remove the skewer and insert the curved length of licorice for tail. Cool on rack. When the cookies are cool, they can be stored in an airtight container at room temperature up to one week.

Simple steps to prepare for severe weather

In the midst of National Preparedness Month, Kentucky Utilities Company and Louisville Gas and Electric Company offer four proactive steps to take in advance of severe weather.

1. Make a kit: Having an emergency preparedness kit ready in advance for each member of the family can help make responding to an emergency less stressful and more organized. In addition, consider carrying a kit in the trunk of a vehicle for emergencies. Visit ready.gov for a list of suggested items to include, such as a first-aid kit, crank-powered flashlights, whistles, batteries, prescription medicines, blankets, bottled water and a weather radio.

2. Stay informed: During outage situations, KU and LG&E provide near real-time outage information through the utilities' automated phone system, online outage map and outage map app.

3. Tell KU and LG&E about it: Reporting downed power lines, hazardous conditions and power outages immediately to KU and LG&E can help the utilities more quickly isolate areas impacted during severe weather. KU customers should call 1-800-981-

0600. LG&E customers should call 502-589-1444 (1-800-331-7370 outside Louisville.) When you call, press "1-1-2" to quickly navigate through the automated phone system and report the situation. Follow us on Twitter and Facebook for information updates.

4. Safety comes first: Always assume any downed wire is an energized power line. Stay away from the area and report it immediately.

Visit lge-ku.com/storm for additional preparedness tips and safety information.

Don't be tricked into thinking you are "okay to drive"

This Halloween, don't be tricked into thinking you are "okay to drive" if you celebrate with alcohol. The Kentucky Office of Highway Safety (KOHS) reminds all partygoers that buzzed driving is drunk driving. If you feel "buzzed," you should not be behind the wheel.

"The risks are not worth it, and the consequences are too serious," KOHS Executive Director Bill Bell said. "A sober and safe ride after the party is the best treat you can give yourself and everyone else on the road this Halloween."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), in 2011, when Halloween fell on a Monday, 44 percent of the nation's fatalities during the Halloween weekend occurred in a crash involving a driver or a motorcycle operator with a blood alcohol concentration of 0.08 or higher. Thirty-eight percent of fatalities on Halloween night occurred in a crash involving a driver or a motorcycle operator with a BAC of 0.08 or higher.

Young men are particularly at risk of being involved in a traffic crash as a result of "buzzed" or drunk driving. Males ages 21-34 comprised almost half of all drunk drivers who were killed in motor vehicle traffic crashes nationwide during the 2011 Halloween period.

Tips for a safe Halloween:

- Before the Halloween festivities begin, plan a way to safely get home at the end of the night.
- Always designate a sober driver.
- If you are impaired, take a taxi, call a sober friend or family member, or use public transportation.
- Walking while impaired can be just as dangerous as drunk driving.
- Designate a sober friend to walk you home.
- If you see a drunk driver on the road, contact local law enforcement.

If you know someone who is about to drive or ride while impaired, take their keys and help them make safe travel arrangements.

Pendleton Ladycats Volleyball sophomore Bailey Boden was selected as a member of the 38th District All-Tournament team. She is joined on the all-tournament team and in the picture by Robertson County's Lacey Mitchell daughter of PC Food Service Director Lisa Mitchell.

Ladycats volleyball season comes to end in five

The Ladycats had split with Nicholas County in two matches during the regular season and after the first four games of the first round match-up of the 38th District Tournament, they had split four games and went into a pivotal 15-point, 5th game.

Nicholas County would jump out to a 6-1 lead and held on for the 3-2 victory by winning 15-7 in the 5th.

"Nicholas County went on some runs and we were not able to stop them," Ladycats Varsity Coach Laura Buck pointed out about the matchup. "They took the momentum and we were unable to take it back."

The Ladycats took the opening game, 25-19, taking 13 of the last 21 points.

The second game was a tight, back-and-forth battle that was tied at 14. The Lady Jackets scored seven of the last eight points and tied the match at a single game apiece.

The Ladycats seemed to be poised to take the pivotal third game in a best out of five series after taking a 19-12 lead on Hailey York's serve. But Nicholas County started a comeback taking three straight points to make it 19-15.

PC forced a sideout to push it to 20-15, but Nicholas rattled off five straight points to tie it at 20, added two more to take the 22-20 lead.

A Jozi Steffen to Destiny Shackelford to Bailey Boden spike brought the ball back to the Cats' side and trailing 22-21.

Bailey followed up her spike with a dink over the Lady Jacket front line to tie it at 22 but a side serve gave Nicholas the lead back at 23-22. They pushed it to game point at 24-22 when their shot found the line.

Bailey dinked another and the Cats had the serve trailing 24-23. Christine Philpot served and the Cats got the sideout to tie it at 24.

Nicholas was able to score two in a row and took the 3rd set 26-24.

Pendleton would dominate the 4th game, 25-12, and force the fifth set by scoring 14 of the last 15 points.

"The girls gave it their all, it just fell a little short," coach Buck commented.

Wildcats football team falls to Brossart on Senior Night

The Pendleton County Wildcats hosted the Bishop Brossart Mustangs at Veteran's Field this past Saturday evening in their final home football contest of the 2013 campaign.

The Wildcats were coming off a tough 41-14 loss at the hands of Erlanger Lloyd and needed a victory in order to have a chance at a .500 season. The Mustangs had designs of spoiling the party; Brossart scored 16 unanswered points in the final frame and pulled out a 22-14 victory.

The pre-game ceremonies celebrated the careers of the nine football seniors and two student managers: Katie Lawson, Sarah Turner, Kyle Silbersack, Gary Holland, Adam Koeninger, Daniel Robey, Jason Wilder, Jordan Morgan, David Huck, Keith Steele, and Cody Hanser.

The opening quarter saw deep drives stall out by both teams. The second quarter looked like more of the same until Brossart's Sean Tieman broke a third down play and went 24 yards for the score with just over two minutes left before halftime. That would be the lone first half score and Brossart led 6-0.

Another ceremony was held at halftime to honor those senior athletes running cross country and playing golf. Those being honored were: Morgan Bay, Dakota Crouch, Sean Michael Flynn, Lance Jones, and Ariel Ramsey.

The second half saw the Wildcats post a furious comeback. The no-huddle offense that coach Brown had used in spells all season began firing on all cylinders and found success when Adam Koeninger hit Gary Holland with a five yard touchdown pass. A failed two-point conversion left the score tied at 6. Brossart began another drive and appeared headed to the end zone to take the lead again. However a forced fumble bounced into the hands of Hunter Lea, who took the ball 65 yards for the score. A successful run on the two-point try by Silbersack gave the Wildcats a 14-6 lead. Brossart then went back to what brought them success early - a heavy dose of the run game. The drive down the field featured runs by either the Brossart quarterback or running back. Early in the fourth quarter, Casey Pelgen ran in from three yards out and a successful two point conversion tied the game again at 14. Brossart capitalized on a Wildcat fumble late in the game and scored the winning touchdown with 3:40 left in the game. A late attempt by Pendleton was thwarted, and the Mustangs escaped with a 22-14 victory.

Coach Brown was quick to praise his opponent. "Coach Teegarden did a great job of having his guys prepared for tonight. We'll look at film and fix the things we need to for next week."

Brown also commended his seniors. "Those kids are my first four year team. They've answered the bell every time I've asked them and we'll miss them next season."

The Wildcats (3-6), will travel to Ludlow to finish the season. The Panthers (3-6) are coming off a 56-0 defeat at the hands of Beechwood. Kickoff on Friday night is set for 7 p.m.

Boys finish third, girls fourth at Harrison Invitational

Twenty-four runners from Sharp Middle and Pendleton County High School made the trip down US 27 on a cold Thursday night to compete in the Harrison County Invitational, held at the Cynthiana Country Club. Both varsity teams ran well, with many athletes shaving twenty seconds or more off of last week's times.

The boys' varsity squad finished an impressive 3rd, and was only a few points from being runner-up. Montgomery Franxman once again led the charge for the guys, finishing in 18:35. Franxman headed up a group of six Wildcats posting sub-20 minute times, among those were Josh Brown and Kenton Hornbeck.

The girls also ran very well, finishing 4th. Xanthia Jensen posted the top time for the ladies, crossing the line in 23:12, good enough for 11th place overall. Joining her in the Top 25 were Alexis Tolbert (23:37, 14th), and Kylie Figgins (24:26, 21st), respectively.

The teams from Sharp Middle School also ran in the competition and had some very impressive results. Three boys finished in the top 10 (Justin Lambert, Gabe Jenkins, and Logan Conner), while a pair of young ladies, Shelby Shaefer (2nd), and Anna Baxter (4th), made top 5.

"We ran a much cleaner race today overall than we did on Saturday," commented coach Hatfield. "We're back to running the times we should be, and that's good going into regionals."

The regional meet is next Saturday at Sherman Elementary School in Dry Ridge. The races begin at 9:30 a.m.

Varsity girls: Xanthia Jensen 23:12, Alexis Tolbert 23:37, Kylie Figgins 24:26, Amelia Franxman 25:31, Susie Wright 26:41

Varsity boys: Montgomery Franxman 18:35, Walker Lea 18:54, Morgan Bay 19:06, Josh Brown 19:42, Caleb Vanario 19:49, Kenton Hornbeck 19:50, Holden Wolfe 20:47, Spencer Bay 21:17, Kenton Wells 22:53, Dakota Crouch 23:03

Middle School girls: Shelby Shaefer 14:37, Anna Baxter 16:03, Haven Wolfe 18:13, Madison Meyer 18:15

Middle School boys: Justin Lambert 13:17, Gabe Jenkins 13:20, Logan Conner 13:27, Preston Wright 16:24, Lincoln Franxman 16:32

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m. Message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist church. Brother Dan's message was taken from Philippians 1:3-11 and titled "God will continue His work in us if we allow Him."

Our fall revival has come to an end, but the spirit remains. We were blessed with three wonderful messages from Brother Tony Bishop that were filled with the Spirit of the Lord. Special music was performed by Homer Burton, Karen Cooper, Kathy Bishop and Donna Lonaker. We would like to thank all that came to our fall revival and welcome you back to Berlin anytime.

BUTLER BAPTIST

The message was from I Peter 3:13-17 about sharing your hope as a Christian even when you are being persecuted. We are called to do what is right and good. This is done by not being ashamed of Jesus and showing others our faith in him. During our persecutions we are blessed by God. Jesus is our only hope. When we focus on him and eternal life with him, we please Him.

In order to witness and defend Jesus we must prepare by studying the Bible. By exhibiting good behavior and being without evil, we live as an example before the world. Join us November 3-5 for revival.

BUTLER METHODIST

Several members took part in the Laity Day Sunday service. Thanks to the organizers and speaker, Judy Wright who read about feet washing and service. Adam Hall presented Brian and family with a gift from the church during services in honor of Pastor Appreciation Month. We are thankful to have Brian, Beverly and family pastoring our church.

It's almost here, the big event of the year for the ladies of the church. The Christmas auction will be held on Saturday evening, November 9. The world famous (almost) bar-b-q dinners will be served starting at 5:30 p.m. and the auction led by Marvin and Clay Sullivan will begin promptly at 7 p.m. All are welcome and encouraged to attend.

In preparation for All Saints day, church members are asked to put names of their loved ones who have passed so that they can be recognized on that day.

Congrats to Mary Ann McCord on the birth of her fourth grand baby. Also Cheryl and Gary were happy to have daughter, Laurie in visiting from Florida.

Please pray for the Johnson family, the Peoples family, Beverly's family in the loss of her father, the Poe family, for Debbie Viers, Teresa Barnard, Doug, Amy Weselman, Mike Golfman, Leva and Rachel.

Come and worship with us next Sunday. We are a friendly country church who cares about the community.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Praise the Lord, God is moving at The Chapel.

Fall is a beautiful time of year. The leaves are so beautiful with their many colors. It is a beautiful day because Jesus made it that way. Lets enjoy this day. God's Word says in Ecclesiastes "He hath made everything beautiful in His time."

Come and visit The Chapel when you can, I believe you will be blessed. Have a blessed week.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

If you are looking for a church home, we encourage you to stop by and worship with us. Morning worship is at 10:45 a.m. and evening services are at 7 p.m.

A big "Thank You" to Ed and Ann Ryan for hosting us for a fall party. We enjoyed a hayride, pumpkins, bonfire, food, fellowship and music. Everyone had a wonderful time.

Bro. Cohen's message was about the hope we have in Christ. Christ is willing to meet us where we are and bring us to where He wants us to be. We can't be good enough to deserve his love or bad enough to prevent him from loving us. We just have to admit our sins and ask for forgiveness.

Our annual Harvest Festival is November 9. We will have a chili cook-off/dinner, silent auction, cakewalk, etc... Make plans to join us. All proceeds benefit the cooperative of churches food pantry.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message was from John 21:1-17. "The Man In the Mirror."

When you look in the mirror who do you see? Do you see a Christian, or do you see someone who is not a Christian? Will you let Jesus into your heart? Don't deny Him any longer. I am asking the man in the mirror to change. If we want a better world we have to change the man in the mirror. How many people today are not living as they should? They want to play church, but they don't want to live as a Christian should? God knows what we are doing and how we are living. How many have prayed to God to bless them and they are not following God? Obedience always brings blessings. When the disciples were obedient to Jesus, He always blessed them. When Jesus said to Simon Peter for the third time, do you love me, he was grieved and said to him Lord, thou know all things; thou know that I love thee. Life without Jesus is a wasted life!

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. and worship at 10:45 a.m.

Pray for the sick and the lost. Go to church Sunday!

FALMOUTH METHODIST

With the temperatures getting cooler, many have enjoyed sitting around a fire. Whether in an indoor fireplace or an outdoor fire-pit, it can be a relaxing and comfortable time. Watching a fire burn down can get you thinking about how the embers represent people's lives.

Like a fire, life begins with a tiny spark. Gradually, the flame grows larger and stronger. As we grow into adulthood, we burn with energy and ambition. In our middle years, we tend to settle back and burn with a lower, steadier flame. In old age, like glowing embers, we may grow weaker and weaker. But even then, if more fuel is added, the flame grows stronger and the whole process begins again.

Christians believe that faith is the fuel that rekindles our life. If we stay close to our faith, the spark of life will really never die.

FALMOUTH WESLEYAN

Greetings in Jesus name! "For God so loved the world He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life!" John 3:16

We have a new pastor and his family. We welcome Rev. Nick Errico, wife, Rachell, son, Judah and new baby, Jeremiah. God is blessing our services.

We are also taking orders for the Texas oranges and ruby red grapefruit. If interested call Norma McDowell at 859-654-3716 or Mike McDowell at 859-445-3864.

God bless everyone!

FIRST BAPTIST

Greetings! Special music this Sunday was, "Trust Fall," an original song written and sung by Adam Crozier. Bro. Harry's message, "How do you mend a broken heart," was taken from Psalms. There are a lot of different situations that can break our hearts. We are never alone when we are broken hearted. We think

"But know that the Lord has set apart the godly man for Himself; the Lord hears when I call to Him."
~ Psalm 4:3

we can handle everything by ourselves. We have a hard time giving our problems to God. God can handle all our problems, no matter how large or small. We just need to let go and let God be in control.

Several prayer concerns were added to our prayer list. Pray for the lost, those dealing with illness, those who have lost loved ones, our military, our community, our country and its leaders.

Seeking a church home? Everyone is welcome at First Baptist Church.

"Gods answers are wiser than our prayers!"

HARVEST

We must not let the three powerful enemies control our lives; the world, the flesh and the devil. We must live each day controlled and guided by the Holy Spirit. Then the words of Christ will be in our minds, the love of Christ will be behind our actions, and the power of Christ will help us control selfish desires.

Our youth are collecting canned food items for their food pantry as they plan to offer a Thanksgiving dinner for a family in need. We continue a separate men's and ladies' Bible study every third Sunday evening at 6 p.m.

Prayer concerns: Sharon Purdy, Greg Ramsey, Charles Jenkins, Danielle Klaber, Leonard Schack and the family of Evan Peoples.

As we "share the love of Jesus in a practical way," we invite you to come worship with us at 111 E. Shelby St.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

God is faithful to meet us anywhere, anytime, to walk alongside us. And in times of uncertainty, when we feel some threat in our lives, we need a secure foundation. Our foundation in scripture and tradition is an endless, living source that we can return to engage over and over again. Engaging scripture should lead us to a life lived in remembrance of Jesus Christ.

God's children are to remain steady in God's Word, to stand firm in the examples and teachings of those who have gone before us, and to return to that foundation, and create the time for study and prayer and fellowship. God calls us to keep our eyes on fellowship and teaching when others want to fill up on junk. Our faith is not just rules, or words on paper. It is living, in hearts, active today - a living Word that brings us toward liberation and meaning, through faith in Jesus Christ.

Come visit us at Morgan: Sunday school at 10 a.m. and worship at 11 a.m.

MT. CARMEL

Thanks to all that helped with the Food Drive.

The WMU is sponsoring the "Shoe Box Ministry." If you would like to help the shoe boxes are provided. So pick one up, instructions included in each box. Please return them back to us by November 6.

The city of Williamstown will be honoring the veterans of our community from 8:15-9:00 a.m., November 11. A free breakfast for the veterans will be served in the Williamstown School cafeteria. The grand ceremony will be held in the gymnasium. All veterans and their families are invited to this special event.

MT. MORIAH

Sunday, October 20, was a beautiful fall day. Some of our members were still traveling to see the beautiful fall colors.

The Ladies Aid had a great day on October 17. They went to Blue Licks State Park for lunch. On the way home some of the members were discussing the church at Mt. Gilead. Our very competent and brave driver, Carol Caldwell, took us to the Mt. Gilead Church. The little church and the surroundings are beautiful and peaceful. Many years ago our beloved Bro. Lenox pastored that church. We thank Bob Jones for all the work he does at Mt. Gilead. We also thank Carol for driving us and are thankful for our recently purchased church van.

On November 10 Bro. Breeden will be taking all interested teens to NKU for the Toby Mac concert. There are still some tickets available. Mt. Moriah is paying for the tickets.

Please keep these people in your prayers: Elwood Moore, Joy Thomas, "Little Ellie," Levi Wolfe and all those in our community who are in need of healing. Our sympathy is extended to the Smith, Johnson and Peoples families.

Enjoy fall!

"Therefore confess your sins to one another, and pray for one another, so that you may be healed." James 5:16 a

NEW HOPE

The New Hope Church of Christ will hold it's fall revival on November 3-6. Our speaker will be Larry Oetzel, the former preacher at New Hope and the former vice president of Louisville Bible College. He is now the current preacher at the First Christian Church in Mt. Washington, Ky. Brother Oetzel brings years of experience and wisdom as both preacher and professor in his sermons. Our Sunday morning service will be at 10:30 a.m. and our Sunday night service will be at 6 p.m. Our services on Monday - Wednesday will start at 7 p.m. If you have any questions, you can call 859-445-1549 for more details. New Hope is located at the corner of US 27 and Bishop Ridge. Our address is 3851 US 27 S. You can visit our website at www.nhccfalmouth.com.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is on Wednesdays at 7 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: On November 3 there will be a ball game at 1:30 p.m. with the Cross-Fire Crew, a deacons meeting at 5:30 p.m. and a WMU meeting at 6 p.m.; The Planning Committee will meet on November 10 at 5:30 p.m.; and on November 24 at 12:30 p.m. we will have our annual Thanksgiving Dinner.

"Because it is written, Be Ye holy; for I am holy." I Peter 1:16

Please remember in prayer, Mike Downie, Danny Jefferson, Gus Sanchez, Danial Hamilton, Joan Noble, Ruby Hardy, Betty Lou Hamilton, Daniel King Klaber the Horan, Smith, Huff, Poe and Peoples families. Also pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

The message of the morn was about conflict, which we know is bound to happen. However, it is our reaction to that conflict that's really important.

Remember, October is "Breast Cancer Awareness" month. It is also "Pastor Appreciation" month.

Our "Walk Through Bethlehem" is December 1, 7 and 8, at 5:30-8:30 p.m. Special music is also each evening.

Our congratulations and best wishes to Molly Fields and Robert Hunter upon their recent marriage.

Our heartfelt sympathy to the families of Evan Peoples and Don Johnson (of Butler). Other prayer concerns include Juanita King, Danielle Klaber, Teresa Barnard, Owen Collins, Jerry Booth, Gregg Ramsey, Gerald Barlow, Jeanna Kinman, Linda (Robert) Jones, Debbie Viers, Mark Ross, Cecil Jones, Jeff Auchter, Kevin Taylor, Dwan Bowman, Judy Spencer, Lisa Powell, Amy Whitaker, Jim Browning, Addison Himes, Ann Ammerman, Asa Crozier, Bryant Brown, Eudell Hall, Bella O'Hara, shut-ins, armed forces and our leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

"Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus, just to take Him at his word."

Purpose of the past few weeks of messages was to lift up the church. We all have a responsibility to make our home church a warm place to share the word of God.

Bro. Rick's message was from I Timothy 1:13-15. I long that everyone should know, that Jesus came into the world to save sinners and I was the greatest of them all. God had mercy on me and used me as an example to show others how patient He is. Jesus wants sinners in His house, so they can be saved from their sins. Why do we preach the gospel? We have been saved by it. It's a blessing to all who hear it. Christ came to save sinners. All who believe in Jesus have an eternal Savior. I am redeemed.

Sunday evening Bible study is in Genesis.

TURNER RIDGE

Sunday, October 20 we celebrated the Ordinance of Baptism with Taylor and Phillip Sturdivant.

Jeff Baumgartner had the children's message "What makes God happy," and Bailey Boden read scripture, Mark 16:15-16.

Bro. Dale's message "Cooperating to Share the Gospel" gave the history of how the Cooperative Program was established. This is an efficient way to fund mission work both locally and in foreign countries. Since the 1920s churches have given to the Cooperative Program and this enables missionaries to share the good news of Jesus Christ. "No man comes to the Father except through Me." John 14:6

Please pray for those that are sick and the families that have lost loved ones. Hope to see you on Sunday.

TRINITY

It was so good to see you in church Sunday. To see your smiling face. As we all came to worship our Lord and in our pews we took our place.

The singing started, the Spirit fell as we sang praises to His name after prayers and fellowship with everyone. When we leave, we're not the same. It's there with our church family We find comfort, peace and love. The blessings will begin to fall as our praises reach God above.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m., morning worship at 10:45 a.m. evening worship and youth at 6:30 p.m.

Church News Policy

We appreciate all local churches who wish to publish their news in The Falmouth Outlook. However, it is necessary to limit the number of words per church news article submission in order to seem fair to all organizations.

Church news articles should be no longer than 150 words in total length. DEADLINE for church news is Noon on Wednesdays. Articles that exceed the word limit will be edited to contain 150 words or less; and articles received after the deadline will be held for the following week's issue.

Health and safety issues for Kentucky aging farmers

Because farmers are exposed to multiple hazards throughout extended careers, physical problems can start early. To maintain health, Kentucky farm workers, whose average age is 57, higher than the average worker, must pay attention, particularly as they age, to issues caused by their way of life.

Risk of suicide. Farmers have the highest suicide rates of any occupation. Farmers are exposed to multifaceted stress and pressure. In addition to hard physical labor and long days throughout the year, a farmer must be able to endure the vagaries of nature and livestock, adverse weather conditions, market fluctuations, government policy changes, and family pressures. This unique, emotional pressure can be difficult to manage, and in some cases, it can lead to suicide.

Falls. Falls are one of the leading causes of death. It is important to note that most falls occur from the same level - trips and slips - are the main danger. Being pushed by a cow, slipping in mud, falling on ice - mundane accidents that occur on the ground can cause injury, especially for an older person.

Hearing loss. Farm work routinely exposes farmers to damaging noises. For example, the ear which is turned to the front of the tractor, where the exhaust is loudest, will have greater hearing loss. Farm youth have more hearing loss than non-farm youth, which, because hearing loss is cumulative, is a hazard. As farmers age, they may not be able to hear important noises such as approaching machinery, verbal warnings, or people approaching them, increasing the danger to them and people around them.

Melanoma. Farmers often remove clothing to stay cool, so more skin is exposed to damaging sun. They don't often use sunscreen and may not practice regular skin self-exams. Of special note are the tips of the ears. Many farmers wear baseball caps, which increase the sun exposure of the ears and back of the neck. Working without a shirt or in sleeveless tops also increases the risk of sun damage.

Cataracts. Repeated sun exposure from farming accelerates the risk of developing cataracts. Statistically, farmers are more likely to develop cataracts at a younger age and, other than professional fisherman, they have the highest rate of cataracts, largely because they do not wear protective sunglasses.

Preventative care. Farmers often ignore their own health and safety, adopting a fatalistic view that "it won't happen to me." They routinely skip vaccines such as tetanus infrequently visit doctors.

Compounding the physical issues is the fact that farming culture is unique, and therefore the way that doctors and nurses interact with and relate to farmers is important. Researchers are beginning to develop new guidelines to better screen and understand farmers, who have a strong cultural and emotional commitment to the farm that clinicians may not understand.

Sometimes, adjusting the screening questions can help doctors gauge a patient's risk for an illness. For instance, over half of all farmers are bi-vocational. But often, only the non-farming job is reported to clinicians, which limits their ability to screen for certain farm-related illnesses and injuries.

Farmers often define health as the ability to work. In a lifelong profession that expects, reverses and upholds such commitment, careful health screenings and care are necessary to keep farmers working during their advanced years.

Eating healthy around the Holidays for people with diabetes

The holiday season is generally a time for celebrating and enjoying the company of friends and family. Unfortunately, it is also a time when people eat more high-fat, high-calorie foods than they normally would. If you have diabetes, it is sometimes difficult to maintain your blood glucose within the target range set by your doctor. Some careful thought and planning can go a long way to help you manage your blood glucose and still have a good time around the holidays. Eating during the holidays should be no different from the way you eat every day if you eat a moderate amount of foods that are high in nutrients and low in fat and calories. Before the holidays begin, create daily, healthy eating habits. Establishing daily habits early will help you make wise eating choices during the holidays. Follow these tips to start a healthy routine:

- Start your day with a healthy breakfast. Include whole grains, fruit, low-fat dairy and protein.
- Choose vegetables and fruits that have a variety of colors.
- Eat whole grains.
- Choose a variety of proteins like seafood, chicken, turkey and beans.
- Watch your portion sizes.

Parties are popular during the holidays and can cause unhealthy eating. Try not to arrive at the party hungry. Don't skip meals during the day to "save" calories and carbs. Don't rush to eat at the event; spend some time socializing first. When you do eat, use small plates, and fill them with healthy foods like fruits and vegetables. Also, when socializing, do not stand near a table with food; this will help you avoid unnecessary nibbling.

Remember, there are lots of sweets and desserts during the holidays, and these foods often contain carbs and fat with few other nutrients. Try substituting fruit as dessert. Fruit is sweet and has fewer calories than most desserts. If using fruit as a dessert, keep within one serving size for the particular fruit. When cooking, use vanilla or cinnamon to act as a sweetener. This flavoring will add sweetness without a lot of carbs. Also you can split a dessert with a friend or try bringing your own diabetes-friendly dish to the party.

For more information on eating healthy during the holidays, visit the American Diabetes Association website, <http://www.diabetes.org/food-and-fitness/food/planning-meals/holiday-meal-planning/> or the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Sour cream pumpkin coffee cake by The Amish Cook

The Amish Cook

By Lovina Eicher

October 18 was Elizabeth's friend, Timothy's birthday. Happy birthday wishes go to him! We were going to take supper to Timothy's house but told him it would be easier if he would come here instead.

Daughter Elizabeth didn't have to work so we are tried to make an ice cream cake for Timothy. We had never tried it before so hopefully it will turn out okay. Also on our menu was either fried and barbecued chicken. Am not sure what else we will have yet.

Bow season has been in for a while now. This is the first year my husband Joe has tried bow hunting. He hasn't had time to go too often yet but hopes to go.

There was an Eicher reunion on Joe's dad's side. Money-wise we were unable to attend. It was in Berne, Ind. at a community building. With gas prices being high it also makes the prices go up for us when we hire drivers. We had to buy our coal for the winter or at least some of it, making things a little tight right now with money. We attended this reunion three years ago.

My husband Joe started working at the factory again this week which will help out a lot. We can't complain as God gives us many blessings. How thankful we can be to have a place to live and plenty of food in the house. It makes us appreciate it all the more.

We recently walked back to see where Joe and the boys set up his tree stand in our neighbor's woods. It was an interesting nature walk. It is a little bit hilly but Joe and the boys cleared a nice path to walk. Loretta, 13 has a hard time getting up the hills. Benjamin, 14 and Joseph, 11 hooked arms with her on either side and helped her get up the hilly areas. They also helped her get up in Joe's tree stand which is 15 feet high. She was glad to be able to sit up there awhile although she was worn out until we came back home. Things the rest of us take for granted are so hard for her to do. Do we appreciate our good health enough? Having handicapped children makes you notice others with disabilities a lot more and be able to feel for them. God has a purpose for everything which I try to help encourage Loretta all I can. She has days when she gets so frustrated. It is hard on her when people stare at her when she tries her best to get up a set of stairs. This is all for a reason and keeps us humble. God's blessings to all!

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 eggs, 1 beaten
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 cup sour cream
- 16 oz. can pumpkin (1 3/4 c)
- 1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice

DIRECTIONS:

Streusel: 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1/3 cup butter, 2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Cream butter, 3/4 cup sugar and vanilla. Add three eggs and beat well. Combine flour, baking powder and soda. Add dry ingredients to butter mixture, alternately with sour cream. Combine pumpkin, beaten egg, 1/2 cup of sugar and pie spice. Spoon 1/2 of batter in 9 x 13 inch pan. Sprinkle 1/2 of streusel over batter. Spread pumpkin mixture over streusel. Spread rest of batter over batter over pumpkin mixture. Sprinkle remaining streusel over top.

Bake in slow oven at 325° for 50-60 minutes.

Local Cover Crop Seed Cost-Share Program

The Pendleton County Conservation District is again this year sponsoring the local cost share program for cover crop wheat/rye seed. This is for Pendleton County landowners only.

Have you sown your cover crop yet? Cover crops should be in the ground by November 1. Without this cover the soil is left bare to the mercy of wind, snow, water and ice for the winter months. This is also a component of your HEL Conservation Plan, in order to be in compliance you need to sow a cover crop.

This is the seventh year for this program. After you have finished sowing your cover crop, bring your receipt (made out to you from your seed dealer) and fill out a short application. The district will pay 50% of the total cost of the cover crop (wheat or rye) seed that you purchased, up to a maximum of $100 per landowner.

This program is now underway and will end on December 31, 2013 or when the allotted funds have been depleted. The Conservation Board meets on the third Tuesday evening of each month and will approve your application. A check will be mailed to you after that approval. The office is located in the USDA Service Center, 814 US South, Falmouth, KY 41040.

Another reminder: If you are a Pendleton County landowner and you have lost an animal (cow, horse, hog or sheep), Harmon's Dead Livestock Pick Up Service has been contracted to pick up that animal for you. Their number is 859-567-2111, call them and leave good directions, name and phone number and they will pick the animal up, then bill The Pendleton County Conservation District for the service. Always have the animal on a solid surface for easy loading.

Yet another reminder: It's that time of the year to order tree seedlings from the Ky. Division of Forestry. Two things to remember - seedlings are only shipped January thru April and you can order in bundles of 10 or 100 seedlings. You specify the month you want yours to arrive.

You may call the Pendleton County Conservation District at 859-654-3376, ext. 3 or stop by our office at the USDA Service Center, 814 US 27 S., Falmouth and get an order blank/price list. You may also call Ky. Division of Forestry at 1-800-866-0876 for detailed information about any variety.

Tree seedlings are reserved on a first come, first reserved basis. Don't delay to place your order.

All programs and services are offered on a non-discriminatory basis.

Don't be spooked: Be safe while driving this Halloween

Halloween is one of the most anticipated nights of the year, it's also one of the most dangerous for pedestrians. As children take time to pick out the creepy costumes they're going to wear, adults should spend some time thinking about Halloween driver safety.

Tips to help drivers avoid a scare this Halloween:

- Make sure the monsters can see you. Jack-o-Lanterns aren't the only items that should be illuminated on Halloween. Before getting behind the wheel, drivers should make sure they have optimal visibility by ensuring their vehicles' lights are in working order, the defroster is working properly, the windshield wipers are in good condition and the windshield washer fluid is at an appropriate level. Many children wear masks and costumes that obscure their vision, so functioning lights will also help make the vehicle more visible for pedestrians.

- Don't drive fast to escape the ghosts. On Halloween, many children run from house to house eager to yell "Trick-or-Treat" and fill their bag with candy. Slowing down will help drivers focus on their surroundings and allow them to stop more quickly if need be. Slower speeds also save fuel.

- Listen for creepy noises. Instead of listening to the radio or talking on a cell phone, a driver should listen to what's going on around him or her. Avoiding distractions allows a driver to keep his or her eyes and ears open for the witches, royalty and superheroes who may be crossing the street.

- Get a grip. As a tire wears, its ability to grip the road in adverse conditions decreases. Stopping on wet roads can take up to four times the normal distance of stopping on dry roads. If the tread on the tires is worn, the tires may hydroplane (skim over the surface of the road with little or no traction). Drivers should check their tire inflation pressure as well as tread depth and wear at least once per month to make sure their tires are gripping the road properly this Halloween.

- These driving and maintenance tips can help promote Halloween safety for years to come, so be sure to share them with friends, family and neighbors. A quick check of your vehicle can help make sure any frights are reserved for the holiday, not for the road.

On Halloween, drivers need to beware of ghouls, ghosts and princesses in the road.

Mentoring and youth development

Mentoring programs help youth become productive citizens who give back to their communities by participating in service projects and helping other young people.

Mentoring is a sustained relationship between a youth and an adult or older teenager. In fact, mentoring comes from the Greek word meaning enduring. A mentor offers support and guidance through continued involvement. A mentor also, offers assistance when the younger person experiences a difficult period, faces new challenges or works to correct an earlier problem.

Kentucky's 4-H Youth Development Program has more than 21,000 adult volunteers and more than 4,000 teenage volunteers who serve as mentors to some 227,000 members.

Research suggests that mentoring has important benefits. Youth participating in mentoring relationships have better school attendance and grades, better attitudes toward school, and a better chance of going on for higher education. Mentoring also appears to reduce some negative behaviors and shows promise in preventing substance abuse. It also promotes positive social attitudes and relationships.

We're seeing an increased interest in becoming 4-H volunteers. This follows a national trend of dramatic growth in the number of mentoring programs in recent years. One reason for this popularity is compelling testimonials by youth and adults who have themselves benefited from the positive influence of an older person who helped them endure crises.

Many of our present-day volunteers have offered to become mentors because they, too, benefited from volunteers when they were 4-H members. Often a county Extension agent traces interest in this profession back to 4-H experiences.

These volunteers are positive role models for today's youth in a time of increasing single-parent homes and two-parent working families.

You'll find 4-H volunteers everywhere. They judge contests, give school enrichment programs and assist with club meetings, junior fair square dances, talent shows, 4-H camps and field trips. A volunteer might be an artist making a float for a parade, a veterinarian prescribing for an underfed animal, a camp counselor or trip chaperone, a farmer helping with a crop or livestock project, or someone to provide an ear to listen or shoulder to cry on when things just don't go right.

Volunteers enjoy giving time to 4-H. They are rewarded with love and appreciation from 4-H members, a sense of accomplishment and deep, inner warmth. They also hear that inner voice that says "a job well done" for all the skills taught and youth whose lives they've helped develop.

If you want to find out more about becoming a 4-H teenage or adult volunteer, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

USDA issues Conservation Reserve Program rental payments, direct payments and ACRE payments

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced that USDA has begun distributing Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) annual rental payments to participants across the country. USDA also will distribute 2013 direct payments and 2012 Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) program payments beginning Oct. 24. Payments originally were scheduled to be issued earlier in the month, but were delayed by several weeks due to the lapse in Federal funding.

"Farmers, ranchers and rural landowners across the country count on USDA programs and the payment delays due to the shutdown were an unnecessary burden," Vilsack said. "USDA has prioritized making these scheduled payments without any further delay and Farm Service Agency staff have worked hard to get this assistance out the door as quickly as possible."

Producers will receive payments on almost 700,000 CRP contracts on 390,000 farms covering 26.8 million acres. In exchange for a yearly rental payment provided by USDA on contracts ranging from 10 to 15 years, farmers and ranchers enrolled in CRP agree to remove environmentally sensitive land from agricultural production and plant grasses or trees that will improve water quality and improve waterfowl and wildlife habitat. CRP reduced runoff and leaching of nitrogen and phosphorus into waterways by an estimated 605 million pounds and 121 million pounds, respectively, in 2012, and soil erosion reductions totaling 308 million tons in 2012.

Direct payments for 2013 for the DCP and ACRE programs are being made to the more than 1.7 million farms enrolled in the Farm Service Agency's programs.

Producers with base acres of certain commodities are eligible for DCP payments. ACRE payments for 2012-crop barley, corn, grain sorghum, lentils, oats, peanuts, dry peas, soybeans, and wheat are scheduled to be released beginning Oct. 24 and contingent upon national average market prices and yields in each state. ACRE payments for upland cotton are scheduled to be made in early November, after the 2012/13 average market year price is published in the Agricultural Prices publication scheduled to be released on October 31. ACRE payments are scheduled to be made for large chickpeas, small chickpeas, canola, crambe, flaxseed, mustard seed, rapeseed, safflower, sesame, and sunflowers are scheduled to be made in early December, after the 2012/13 average market year price is published in the Agricultural Prices publication scheduled to be released on November 27. ACRE payments for long grain and medium and short grain rice are scheduled to be made in early February 2014 after the final 2012/13 average market year price is published in the Agricultural Prices publication scheduled to be released on January 31, 2014.

The 2008 Farm Bill, extended by the American Tax Payer Relief Act of 2012, provides authority to enroll land in DCP, ACRE and CRP through Sept. 30, 2013, however, no legislation has been enacted to reauthorize or extend this authority. Effective Oct. 1, 2013, FSA does not have legislative authority to approve or process applications for these programs.

For more information on CRP, DCP and ACRE, producers should contact their local FSA office or visit FSA's website at the FSA Homepage.

Pendleton Recreation Seeking Youth Directors

Pendleton County Recreation is seeking three qualified, organized individuals to oversee the youth athletic leagues in boys basketball/MS intramurals, fast pitch and baseball.

Individuals will need to help with the promotion, distributing, collection and organization of each league as well as supervision during games. A different person will be hired for each league.

Boys basketball/MS intramurals will run January through March. Registration materials will need to be developed and distributed in November with collection in December.

Baseball April through June with Fast Pitch running at the same time. Registration materials will need to be developed and distributed in February with collection in early March.

Directors must have CPR/First Aid training, coordinate fund raising, build rapport with school's football program, as well as be highly organized. If you are interested contact Keith.Smith@Pendleton.kyschools.us for more information.

In Darkest Woods he Wandered

by Steve McKee

*In darkest woods he wandered,
 one moonless stormy night.
 The tree limbs made him shiver reaching out through lightnings light.
 The thunder rumbled its deep warning
 and spoke of dreadful things;
 for he was out on Halloween with all it's dark heart brings.
 His path led through the woods for miles
 and eyeballs watched him travel;
 He could feel their wicked smiles
 while trying hard not to unravel.
 Would he live another hour or would dark forces take him down?
 Would they this traveler overpower?
 Did he hear hoof beats on the ground.
 The thunder clapped the lightning flashed.
 The tree limbs reached to slap at him;
 He heard the evil cackle while all his senses seemed to dim.
 The rain was in his face now as the storm just seemed to grow;
 he was lying on his back and how? he didn't know.
 The fear engulfed his total being he couldn't even speak and all the evil he was seeing only served to make him weak.
 He jerked awake and saw beside him
 another frightened form.
 somehow they both were now together in this awful storm.
 He looked at her beside him and said with eyes quite wide;
 I don't feel like sleeping out,
 I think I'll go inside!
